Green, Joyce & Co.'s Stock!

PRICES LOWER THAT EVER BEFORE KNOWN.

==THE REASON: HERE IT IS=

As has already been extensively advertised, these goals are from the wholesale stek of Green, Joyce & Co., which was sold at auction in Chicago, March 16, 17 and 13. They were unfortunate cough to be next door to a fire, but their stock was only slightly damaged by water from the automatic fire extinguishers. They were unable to make a proper adjustment of their loss and the fire underwriters turned the entire stock over to Samuel We purchased quite a large amount of this stock at far below the martet value, and will sell it accordingly. All the goods which we bought were in absolutely perfect condition. Thepeople of Kansas City will now have the greatest opportunity they have ever had to test the purchasing power ola dollar.

THIS BIG SALE WILL CONTINUE ALL THROUGH NEXT WEEK.

ble in the past among liverymen has arisen from this class of business.

A few years ago $5 was the customary price for a carriage for two to a ball or party where the call required a drive beyond Twenty-ninth street on the south, or Woodland on the east.

"Prices have been scaled down until now the regular $3 rate for the same service exists only nominally," said a liveryman yesterday. "An old customer goes to his liveryman and insists that a competitor offers him a carriage for $2.50 or $2.50, and in this way gets a special rate. There are hundreds of men in this city who think they have a special rate for open or party calls, which they hold as a secret between themselves and their liveryman.

"The new association is to bring prices to a normal basis and prevent ourselves from being film-flammed into cutting our own prices. Some of those at the meeting were in favor of charging extra after 12 o'clock, where a carriage is ordered until 12. That matter is not settled yet."

Mr. C. A. Norton declined to be interviewed after the meeting. "It is merely an organization for mutual benefit. We may be able to tell you more by the end of the week. See Mr. Forster; he is the head push." 11 a. m..... 1 p. m.....

charges, based on well defined street limits, was discussed and a schedule temporarily agreed upon. A committee was appointed to visit the liverymen not in attendance and get them to ratify the action taken. In case of any disagreement found among the liverymen as to charges or limits, the committee is to report at the next meeting a compromise measure. The charges, it is said, all pertain to opera, dance and party calls. The greatest trouble in the past among liverymen has arisen from this class of business.

Passenger Takes Exception to a Remark, and Three Men Come Up Before Police Court.

Disturbing the peace by fighting was the charge on which William Flynn and B. Kilkenney were arraigned in the police couryesterday morning. They were arrested Thursday night by Officer Horace Greeley on complaint of W. B. Smart, a conductor on the Metropolitan's Twelfth street line. Flynn and Kilkenney were passengers on Smart's train when the trouble between them arose. They got into an argument about religion and Smart made a remark With References.

Dr. Robert T. Sloan, a physician with an office at 47 Rialto building, reported to the police yesterday afternoon that an agent for an Eastern book concern borrowed three volumes on surgery from him Friday, and has failed to return them. The books are worth about $18$. The agent, whose name Dr. Sloan does not know, had sold him medical works from time to time.

The agent had been in the habit of borrowing books from Dr. Sloan to show prospective customers. Friday he appeared at Dr. Sloan's office looking somewhat seedy and asked for the loan of a small amount of money. Dr. Sloan of a small amount of money. Dr. Sloan refused for the loan of a small amount of money. Dr. Sloan refused to accommodate him and he then asked for the loan of three books. He left soon afterward and has not been seen since
